

e-cigre

on-line library and bookstore

Reference: 192

Type:

Technical Brochures

Title:

Protection using telecommunications

Deregulation in both the telecommunication and electric power industry, together with new telecommunication network technologies and advances in numerical protection, has resulted in the need to reconsider traditional methods of delivering teleprotection schemes and their associated bearer services. Fibre-optic technology is commonly deployed in new telecommunication networks for inter-station communication and utility-owned and public telecommunication networks from third parties are available for protection purposes.

More Informations :

File Size:2,5 MB Pages NB:175 Study Committee : 34 (now B5), 35 (now D2) WG (TF):JWG
34/35.11 Year:2001
