

Reference: 414

Type:

Technical Brochures

Title:

Dielectric Response Diagnoses for Transformer Windings

Abstracts

The report presents guidelines for performing meaningful dielectric response measurements on power transformers for diagnosing moisture content in insulation systems. Factors, like type of pressboard material as well as oil conductivity and its acidity, influence the quality of the diagnosis and the resulting errors are estimated. Study cases are reported in order to exemplify different practical situations that should be considered when performing measurements.

More Informations :

File Size:1,6 MB Pages NB:58 Study Committee : D1 WG (TF):WG D1.01 Year:2010
