

---

Reference: 470

---

Type:

Technical Brochures

Title:

Life Extension of Large Electric Motors in Nuclear Power Plants

The present work is based on a questionnaire about the practices of predictive and preventive maintenance as well as in the monitoring systems of large motors. It was verified that many of the motors manufactured in the 70's are still operating in several power plants around the world. The implementation of predictive maintenance techniques and monitoring are of fundamental importance for extension of the operational life of old and new motors.

---

More Informations :

File Size:3,6 MB Pages NB:20 Study Committee : A1 WG (TF):WG A1.18 Year:2011

---