

Reference: 489

Type:

Technical Brochures

Title:

Requirements on Testing Flammability of Polymeric Materials for Outdoor Insulation

The TB deals with the property Flammability, which is an important property of housing materials used for polymeric insulations. Studies and analysis of the existing standards, the outdoor experience with different materials in various applications and systematic tests are shown. For the future standardization work of flammability criteria, a differentiation between voltage class and application is recommended

More Informations :

File Size:419,3 KB Pages NB:30 Study Committee : D1 WG (TF):WG D1.14 Year:2012
