
Reference: 748

Type:

Technical Brochures

Title:

Environmental issues of high voltage transmission lines in urban and rural areas

Abstracts

The issue of how new high voltage overhead lines are routed in relation to both existing buildings and protected rural areas are of increasing concern to electricity companies and communities. A similar issue is how new buildings are planned or sited in relation to existing overhead lines.

This TB reports on how these issues are addressed in various countries and reaches conclusions.

More Informations :

File Size:4,4 MB Pages NB:129 Study Committee : B1, B2, C3 WG (TF):JWG
C3/B1/B2.13 Year:2018
